Title: Awareness campaign against communicable diseases.

Organized by: NSS

No.of students participated: 90

Brief Report: Nirmalagiri College NSS Units 25 and 26 conducted an awareness campaign about communicable diseases during the monsoon season. This is an important initiative as these diseases tend to be more prevalent during this time, making it crucial to educate the college community about prevention and necessary precautions. Creating leaflets about different diseases like malaria, dengue fever, typhoid, diarrhea, and leptospirosis is an effective way to disseminate information. These leaflets can provide valuable insights into the symptoms, preventive measures, and treatment options for each disease. By distributing them to all the departments and displaying them on the notice board, the NSS units ensure that the information reaches a wide audience within the college community. The NSS program officers offered guidance and assistance to the students in designing the leaflets, organizing the distribution process, and effectively displaying the information.

Programme 09

Date:01/08/2022

Title: Vegetable Garden

Organized by NSS

No.of students participated: 100

Brief Report: Setting up a vegetable garden promotes environmental sustainability and also provides an opportunity for students to learn about agriculture and cultivate their own food. Cultivating vegetables like peas, ladies finger (okra), and chekkurmanis (a local variety, also known as amaranth) demonstrates the diversity of crops grown in the garden. Each of these vegetables has its own nutritional benefits and adds variety to the available produce. Selling the harvested vegetables to staff and students is an excellent way to make the fruits of the garden's labor accessible to the college community. It encourages healthy eating habits and provides a convenient source of fresh, pesticide-free vegetables for those on campus. The vegetable garden on the college campus not only promotes self-sufficiency and sustainability but also contributes to the well-being of the college community by providing access to fresh, pesticide-free vegetables. It is a commendable effort towards a greener and healthier environment.

Title: Blood Donation Camp

Organized by NSS

No.of students participated:75

Brief Report: NSS Unit 25&26 and NCC of Nirmalagiri College jointly organized a Blood Donation Camp in collaboration with the General Hospital Thalasserry. The event, which took place on 15/09/2022 at Nirmalagiri College, aimed to promote the noble cause of blood donation and contribute to saving lives. Nirmalagiri College Principal, Dr Ousephachan K V, inaugurated the camp. The participation of students and staff who donated blood shows their willingness to make a difference and help those in need. Blood donation plays a vital role in providing life-saving support to patients who require transfusions due to medical conditions, accidents, or surgeries. Such initiatives not only contribute to the immediate availability of blood for those in need but also create awareness among the younger generation about the importance of donating blood and saving lives. The joint efforts of Nirmalagiri College NSS Unit 25&26, NCC, and General Hospital Thalasserry are a testament to the power of collaboration and community service.

Programme 16

Date:16/09/2022

Title: Flash Mob in connection with the antidrug campaign

Organized by NSS

No.of students participated 93

Brief Report: The joint organization of a flashmob by Nirmalagiri College NSS, NCC, and the Janamythri Police Kuthuparamba for an antidrug awareness program demonstrates a collaborative effort to address a pressing issue in society. The presence of Police Inspector Sri. Sreejith Koderi as the inaugural guest adds significance to the event, highlighting the importance of the cause. It indicates the support and involvement of the police department in creating awareness and combating drug abuse. The program officers, namely Smt. Deepthi Lisbeth K, Dr. Jaison Joseph, Dr. Deepamol Mathew, Sub Inspector Smt. V V Deepthi, Smt. Saifula, and Sri. K Ragesh likely played a crucial role in organizing and coordinating the event. Their expertise and guidance contribute to the success and effectiveness of the anti-drug awareness program. Avani Suresh, Sesy Thomas, Milan Sha, and Harsha P took the lead in the flash mob. Their participation and dedication as leaders demonstrate their commitment to spreading awareness through creative means. A flash mob can be an attention-grabbing and engaging way to convey a message to the public. Organizing the event at the Kuthuparamba bus stand, a public gathering place, ensured maximum visibility and reach. This allows the message of anti-drug awareness to reach a wider audience and increase its impact on the community. This joint initiative by Nirmalagiri College NSS, NCC, and the Janamythri Police Kuthuparamba showcases a collaborative effort in addressing the issue of drug abuse. Such events not only raise awareness but also encourage a sense of community involvement and responsibility in combating social problems.

Title: പറവകൾക്കിത്തിരി കുടിനീർ (Water for Birds)

Organized by NSS

No.of students participated: 90

Brief Report: Nirmalagiri College NSS Unit 25&26 organized a social scheme named “പറവകൾക്കിത്തിരി കുടിനീർ” (Water for Birds) to provide drinking water to birds. This initiative demonstrates the college's commitment to environmental conservation and promoting the well-being of birds. The scheme involved volunteers fixing stands containing water pots throughout the campus. By doing so, the NSS unit ensured that birds visiting the campus have access to clean drinking water. This effort contributes to the birds' hydration needs, particularly in areas where natural water sources may be limited or inaccessible. The presence of Principal Dr Ousephachan K V, who presided over the program, and college bursar Rev. Fr. Shaji Thekkemury, who inaugurated it, signifies the college's support and recognition of the initiative. Their involvement adds importance and emphasizes the college's commitment to environmental responsibility and community engagement. The “പറവകൾക്കിത്തിരി കുടിനീർ” scheme highlights the college's efforts to create a bird-friendly environment within the campus. By providing water pots and stands, the college not only supports the birds' well-being but also raises awareness among students, staff, and visitors about the importance of conserving nature and promoting biodiversity.

Title: National Science Day Celebrations

Organized by: NSS

No.of students participated: 90

Brief Report: Nirmalagiri College NSS Units 25 & 26 observed National Science Day on 04/03/2023. National Science Day (28th February) is celebrated in India to mark the discovery of the Raman effect by Sir C.V. Raman, the renowned Indian physicist, on the same day in 1928.

The Botany department's presentation on Robert Brown highlights his significant contributions to the field of botany. Robert Brown, a Scottish botanist, is known for discovering the phenomenon of Brownian motion and for his work in plant anatomy and taxonomy. The Home Science department's presentation on Dr. M.S. Swaminathan showcases his immense contributions to agricultural research and development. Dr. M.S. Swaminathan, often referred to as the "Father of the Green Revolution in India," played a crucial role in improving agricultural productivity and food security in the country. The Mathematics department's presentation on Srinivasa Ramanujan brings attention to his extraordinary mathematical achievements. Ramanujan was an Indian mathematician who made significant contributions to number theory, continued fractions, and mathematical analysis. The Physics department's presentation on Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam pays tribute to his exceptional contributions as a scientist and as the former President of India. Dr. Kalam, known as the "Missile Man of India," made significant advancements in missile technology and played a pivotal role in India's space program. The Zoology department's presentation on C.V. Raman highlights his groundbreaking discovery of the Raman effect, which earned him the Nobel Prize in Physics. C.V. Raman's work revolutionized the field of spectroscopy and had far-reaching implications in various scientific disciplines.

The initiative taken by each department to conduct presentations on different scientists related to their respective fields is an excellent way to commemorate the occasion. It allows students and faculty members to delve deeper into the contributions and achievements of scientists in various disciplines. By highlighting different scientists, each department can showcase the diversity and breadth of scientific achievements across various fields of study. This promotes interdisciplinary learning and encourages students to explore the vast world of science beyond their own disciplines.
